Community Guidelines v.1.0

Our Approach

Komodo is an open source project that relies on community contributions and user-driven activity. Thus it is of utmost importance that the Komodo community maintain a civil and friendly atmosphere.

Komodo's priority is to create a supportive and encouraging community, where everyone is free to participate in discussion, exchange ideas, and collaborate to build things with Komodo's technology. Conversations about blockchain technology, crypto markets, industry trends, and current events are all highly encouraged.

There is no censorship on the Komodo Discord server unless the discussion involves out-right bigotry, threats, or excessively foul or abusive language. In addition, all discussions must take place in the appropriate channels and must be on-topic.

Guidelines

1 Be happy & awesome

- Welcome newcomers to our community.
- Be patient with people, we come from all backgrounds
- Remind others about channel topics & apply to become a community moderator

2 Be respectful towards others.

- Do not use excessively foul or abusive language or make threats of any kind
- Do not use inflammatory or defamatory language towards other humans
- Keep a cool head and don't troll your fellow community members

3 Read & respect our channel rules

- Check channel topic and take the discussion to the appropriate channel
- Always use the #support channel to get help from the Komodo Support Team
- You can post memes and other non-Komodo related links to #off-topic channel
- Komodo ecosystem related announcements can be posted to #ecosystem

4 Do not spam channels with heated arguments or other messages

- Don't hijack channels in long one-on-one debates or discussions
- Posts about specific Komodo ecosystem projects belong in those projects' channels
- Never post non-Komodo related advertisements or promotions

5 Use common sense and don't do anything unethical

- Do not post violent or otherwise shocking content
- Do not post sexual or pornographic content
- Do not promote pump groups or scams
